WHAT DOES IT MEAN... DROPPED A CLASS

- When a student drops a class, it disappears from their schedule. After the “drop/add” period, a student may still have the option to withdraw. Withdrawal usually means the course remains on the transcript with a “W” as a grade.
- This means that the class will not count toward your GPA, but it also won't have a negative impact on your academic record.

FAFSA

EFFECTS OF A WITHDRAWAL (W)

Financial Aid/Scholarships - awarded with the expectation of attending classes for the entire semester/term. Never attending, dropping, or withdrawing can have consequences for future eligibility.

- withdraw from a class, your tuition charges will remain the same; however, your financial aid may be reduced or cancelled.
- Students receiving financial aid who withdraw, never attend or stop attending class(es), will have their financial aid adjusted.
- If class remains on your record and a notation of “W” is recorded on your transcript in place of a grade. Note that a W is not considered a completed course grade. Therefore, a 'W' cannot be overwritten on your transcript by repeating the course.

FAILURE, EXCESSIVE ABSENCES (FX)

- Registered and paid for classes where the students did not exercise their right to drop the course or was not eligible to drop the course because of TSI or six-drop rule regulations.
- stopped attending
- Students who are reported by a faculty member with a grade of “FX” (stopped attending) but do not have a reported last date of attendance will be calculated using the 50% point of the semester. The college will retain full tuition and fees of these students.
